

Contact: Allan Ebeling
Phone 508.370.4834
Fax (508) 875-8862
Email allan.ebeling@uwotc.org
Visit www.uwotc.org

Volunteer Center Now Open

The United Way of Tri-County is pleased to announce a new addition to its list of programs and services. On July 5, the Volunteer Center was opened for business.

The United Way of Tri-County Volunteer Center connects corporations and employees with volunteer opportunities to help people in need. The center supports non-profit organizations to partner effectively with volunteers, develop volunteer leaders, and impassion advocates for volunteerism in the community. We help corporations and their employees help others.

To get connected, contact our Volunteer Center. We will match your skills and interests with causes that are important to both you and the community.

Give an Hour. Give a Saturday.

You will find a wide variety of volunteer opportunities available, including:

- Working with all generations
- Working indoors or outdoors
- Working with computers, homework or crafts – the possibilities are endless.

Volunteering is fun, fulfilling, and something you will look forward to week after week, month after month, or year after year. It's easy to get involved.

Be the Change

Most volunteers claim that volunteering benefits them personally as much as it benefits those being served. Volunteering can change your perspective as you use your talents to better yourself and your community.

We engage business leaders in building a stronger community.

We support workplace volunteer programs.

We organize group volunteer activities for employees.

We build the capacity of non-profit organizations through training and consultative services.

Take Action

YOU CAN LIVE UNITED

The United Way Volunteer Center helps engage businesses, employees and individuals to Give, Advocate and Volunteer ... that's how you can LIVE UNITED.